The Trial of Jefferson Davis. The trial of President Johnson will pe bly be concluded in the early part of nex veck. It would have terminated this week but for the adjournment of the Court to g the counsel time for preparation for the fin argument. The fate of the President is scar result will be remains to be seen. It is im possible to judge now what influences will be employed to ascure his convic-tion, or what to secure his tion, or what to secure his acquittal. Doubtless it will be a grand spectacle and excite even more intense interest than the trial of President Johnson. The Radical party will control everything in con-nection with the trial, and if it is deemed to be to the interest of the party that conviction Absurd as the proceedings would look they would not be more absurd than the removal of Johnson. Johnson is tried for and onvicted of offenses of which he is not guilty, because the necessities of the Radical party, in their judgment, demand hat they shall have the control of the Execu tive Department of the Government. In the case of Mr. Davis, it may be determined by the party managers that his conviction usilee or right will enter into the proceed ing; law will not be considered, nor will the opinion which the civilized world will make up be thought of. If a victim is required he the close of the war have given time for the excitement which existed during the progres f hostilities to cool, and tens and hundred of thousands of Northern men who would have applauded the hanging of Mr. D. a sour apple tree then, and who would have believed it just, would now look upon such a proceeding with unaffected horror. The cal party during that period have bee ntly educating the public mind of the to the belief that Jeff. Davis was the President of a de facto govern ment, and that the Confed de facto government the North overthe nd now holds the country as captured terriory, and has a clear right to make any dispo sition of it it sees proper. If this propo tion is true, it necessarily follows that Jeff Davis was no traitor and should not be con victed or even tried upon such a charge, s of people in a struggle for ependence, which was successful for four years, in spite of two millions of arme by the whole civilized world. It is a misu But if it were true, Jeff. Davis was not more guilty than the hundreds of thous ions of Southern people who made him their ear upon them, and why upon him?

What interest of the nation, valuable or otherwise, can be advanced by his trial or Who will be benefited? Will the North be made more strong or the South more toyal by such proceedings? Will the and feelings, which it is asserted exist, be in any degree allayed? Will the national repu sane man in the country knows that it wo plant a feeling of hate in the hearts of the raillions of devoted admirers of Mr. Davis toward the Government and the people of the North which no lapse of time could remove or modify. It would be a source of examperation which would be fruit-ful of disorders and personal condition between ful of disorders and personal conflicts between the residents of the respective sections, and the Southern States would soon be found too not a climate for any Northern man. To pre teet them in the South under these circustances would require a larger standing arr than the Government, with its present load of indebtedness, could afford to furnish. No amount of force, indeed, could prevent the broils and disturbances which would be ex-inimical to public order, destructive of har-mony and good feeling, injurious to the pub-lic interests, and detrimental to the general good; and all for what? Why, that the ma-THE following is a list of the Police force for City of Louisville:

LIEUTENANTS, lighty of the Radical party might be satisfied by the shedding of the blood of a poor dis-eased man who has been punished by two years of imprisonment, and who in the nature order of things has but a few years to live. It may be asked what good wit be accomplished by the punishment of Jeff Davis? Will it be an example to men hereafter to deter them from resisting oppression or seeking their rights at the poin of the sword? We answer, no. It will accomplish nothing but to intensify the bad feeling already existing between the two sections, and perhaps to get up a sort of guer-rilla war which will last for years to come. The executioners of Jeff. Davis will be regarded as the enemies of the South, and they will be treated as such. They will be treated as assessins and murderers, and be regarded as legitimate victims wherever found. In his punishment the people of the South will see the revenge of the North upon them and their cause and they will resist it whenever occa-sion offers. No good will result, and evil,
